

LIRNEasia @ five:
research --> policy --> knowledge-based economies

Speaker bio: Sherille Ismail, JD

Ismail, Sherille, JD, was born and raised in Sri Lanka, and is graduate of the Georgetown University's School of Foreign Service and the Georgetown Law Center. He is Senior Counsel at the FCC's Office of Strategic Planning and has significant experience in communications and media policy involving the digital transition, broadband access, cable and broadcast issues. At the FCC, Ismail held several senior management positions. While serving in the FCC's International Bureau, he organized and led workshops for foreign regulators, on topics ranging from promoting competition, interconnection pricing, transparent regulatory policies, separation of regulator from Ministries and spectrum allocation. Before joining the FCC, he served as a member of the joint congressional conference committee staff that negotiated the Telecommunications Act of 1996. He also worked on numerous other antitrust, civil rights, and international issues during his tenure as a senior legal advisor to Rep. John Conyers on the U.S. House of Representatives' Judiciary Committee. He is the author of several publications, and serves in his personal capacity and not as a representative of the FCC.