

LIRNEasia @ five:
research --> policy --> knowledge-based economies

Speaker bio: Rajat Kathuria, PhD

Kathuria, Rajat, PhD, is a Professor at ICRIER. He has over twenty years of experience in teaching and eight years of experience in economic policy, besides research interests on a range of issues relating to regulation and competition policy. He worked with the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI) during its first eight years (1998-2006) and gained hands-on experience with telecom regulation in an environment gearing rapidly towards competition. The role entailed analysis of economic issues relating to telecom tariff policy, tariff rebalancing, interconnection charges and licensing policy. He wrote a number of consultation papers which eventually formed the basis of tariff and interconnection orders applicable to the industry. He has taught undergraduate economics at the University of Maryland and is currently on leave from the International Management Institute (IMI), New Delhi, where he teaches Managerial Economics and International Trade. He has worked with the World Bank, Washington, DC, as a Consultant and has carried out project assignments for a number of organizations, including the ILO, UNCTAD, LIRNEasia, Ernst and Young, the Consultancy Development Centre (CDC) and the Standing Committee for Public Enterprises (SCOPE). He has published in national and international journals, in addition to popular magazines and newspapers. He is a founder member of the Broadband Society for Universal Access and serves on the board of the Delhi Management Association.
