

LIRNEasia @ five:
research --> policy --> knowledge-based economies

Speaker bio: Deunden Nikomborirak, PhD

Nikomborirak, Deunden, PhD, completed her bachelor's and master's degrees in economics from Queen's University, Ontario, Canada, and her PhD in economics from McGill University in Montreal. She is currently a research director at the Thailand Development Research Institute, an independent economic think-tank based in Bangkok. Her area of specialization is in institutional economics encompassing competition law, sectoral regulation, corporate governance and international trade and investment regimes. She was briefly Secretary to the Minister of Finance during 2007-08 and is currently advisor on the BOI board and a member of the Subcommittee on anti-corruption concerning economic issues in the National Anti-Corruption Committee.