

LIRNEasia @ five:
research --> policy --> knowledge-based economies

Speaker bio: Sudharma Yoonaidharma

Yoonaidharma, Sudharma is currently Commissioner of the Thai National Telecommunications Commission (NTC). Prior to the NTC appointment, Yoonaidharma taught business and economic law at Chulalongkorn University. At the University, Yoonaidharma held senior posts, including Vice Dean for Academic Affairs, Director General of the Intellectual Property Institute and Director General of the Science and Technology Law Center. Through the years, Yoonaidharma's other activities included the drafting of telecommunications and e-commerce laws, and a proposal to liberalize and privatize government-owned operators. Yoonaidharma was appointed as a World Bank transport and telecommunications expert to work with Ministry of Finance to facilitate corporatization of public utility service agencies. Yoonaidharma also prepared a position paper for the Thai Government to negotiate telecommunication services under the Uruguay Round leading to the Thai Schedule of Commitment of 1994 and 1996.

Yoonaidharma has also been the lead telecommunication negotiation delegate to negotiate telecommunication services with the Japan-Thailand Economic Partnership Agreement, Thailand-US Free Trade Agreement (suspended), Thailand-India Economic Cooperation Agreement (ongoing), ASEAN-China Closer Economic Cooperation Agreement (ongoing) and Thailand-Australia Free Trade Agreement (upcoming for telecommunications in 2007). He was nominated as the Chairman of the ASEAN Telecommunication Regulators Council (ATRC) in 2009, Co-Chair of ASEAN-Japan Telecommunication Dialogue and Co-Chair of ASEAN-China Telecommunication Dialogue.